Honorable James R. Schlesinger
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Dr. Schlesinger:

We are most appreciative of the outstanding support rendered by members of your staff during our recently completed study of "Management of Intelligence Resources."

STAT On 25 April, [redacted] made an exceptionally able presentation on the organization and role of the Central Intelligence Agency that generated lively enthusiasm for its depth of coverage and analysis. He answered questions clearly, frankly, and concisely, and established an excellent rapport with the members of the group.

STAT On 27 April, the seminar group visited CIA and received an extremely thorough, informative, and stimulating briefing on the role of the DCI and DCI staff in a session with Major General Lew Allen, Jr., USAF, and members of his staff. Mr. William Colby, Deputy Director for Operations, addressed himself frankly and deftly to CIA management problems; and [redacted] and members of his staff gave an excellent briefing and tour of the CIA Operations Center.

STAT The participating students have voiced high praise for the manner in which these meetings were conducted and for the vast amount of information they received as a result. Additionally, a word of thanks is extended to [redacted] of the Office of Training, [redacted] for their work in setting up the visit to CIA on the 27th. STAT

Many thanks for your assistance in helping us accomplish our mission.

On file OSD release instructions apply.

Sincerely,

J. V. Smith
